Dear Mr. Reynal,

Thank you for your letter dated 7 July 2017 regarding a request for information on the implementation of Recommendation WECAFC/16/2016/1 on Queen Conch. Please see the responses to the questions below.

1) National Queen Conch Fisheries Management and Conservation Plans that have been developed in 2016 and 2017.

The U.S. National Marine Fisheries Service (NMFS) manages queen conch (Strombus gigas) in U.S. Caribbean federal waters. Management measures are specified in a Queen Conch Fishery Management Plan (FMP). A copy of this FMP and subsequent amendments are available at: http://sero.nmfs.noaa.gov/sustainable_fisheries/policy_branch/rules/caribbean/queen_conch/index.html.

Table 1. Summary of U.S. management measures and areas the measures apply.

Area	Management Measure
U.S. Caribbean federal waters	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Fishing for or possession of queen conch is prohibited, except in the area described below during the open season.• Harvest in federal waters allowed only in the area east of 64°34' W longitude which includes Lang Bank, St. Croix, U.S. Virgin Islands from November 1 through May 31. No possession or sale of queen conch during closed season from June 1 through October 31 (or earlier depending if the territorial/federal quota is met).• Annual catch limit for St. Croix, U.S. Virgin Islands federal waters (commercial and recreational combined) is 50,000 pounds (22,680 kg). When the annual catch limit is reached or projected to be reached, NMFS will close the U.S. Caribbean waters in this management area to the harvest and possession of queen conch. The combined landings of both federal and territorial waters are used to determine if ACLs are being reached or have been exceeded.• Commercial trip limit of 200 queen conch per vessel/day in St. Croix federal waters.• Recreational bag limit of 3 queen conch per person/day, or if more than 4 persons onboard, 12 queen conch per vessel/day in St. Croix federal waters.• Commercial and recreational size limit is either 9 in (22.9 cm) shell length, that is, from the tip of the spire to the distal end of the shell, or 3/8 in (9.5 mm) in lip width at its widest point.• A queen conch in or from the U.S. Caribbean federal waters must be maintained with meat and shell intact.

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • No person may harvest queen conch by diving while using a device that provides a continuous air supply from the surface. • Annual catch limit for Puerto Rico commercial and recreational harvest is zero pounds for each sector. Annual catch limit for St. Thomas/St. John, U.S. Virgin Islands applicable to both the commercial and recreational sectors is zero pounds.
U.S. Caribbean territorial waters: U.S. Virgin Islands	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Harvest of queen conch from the territorial waters surrounding St. Thomas/St. John and St. Croix is allowed during the open season, with a quota of 50,000 pounds of queen conch per year from each area. Season may close earlier if limit is reached. • Open season: November 1 through May 31. No possession or sale is allowed from June 1 through October 31. • Commercial trip limit of 200 queen conch per vessel/day. • Recreational bag limit of six queen conch per person/day, no more than 24 queen conch per vessel/day. • Queen conch must be landed alive and whole in the shell. • Size limit is either 9 in (22.9 cm) shell length, that is, from the tip of the spire to the distal end of the shell, or 3/8 in (9.5 mm) in lip width at its widest point.
U.S. Caribbean territorial waters: Puerto Rico	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • No harvest quota. • Open season for all harvest: November 1 through July 31. No possession or sale is allowed from August 1 through October 31. • Commercial trip limit of 150 queen conch/day, or 450 conchs per vessel per day, whichever is less. • Recreational bag limit of three queen conch per person per day or no more than 12 queen conchs per vessel/day, whichever is less. • The conch may only be removed from the shell on board the vessel, while in transit to the port of landing, and never under water within the waters of Puerto Rico. Size limit is either 9 in (22.9 cm) shell length, that is, from the tip of the spire to the distal end of the shell, or 3/8 in (9.5 mm) in lip width at its widest point.

2) Non-Detriment Findings (NDF) reports prepared for Queen Conch.

The United States has not prepared NDFs for Queen Conch because the United States does not export Queen Conch from U.S. populations (see trade data in accompanying Appendix 1). Exports of Queen Conch from the United States are re-exports, i.e., they are specimens that have previously been imported into the United States from another country.¹

¹ An export permit for an Appendix-II species like the Queen Conch may be issued only if: the specimen was legally obtained; the trade will not be detrimental to the survival of the species; and, in the case of a live animal or plant, the specimen is prepared and shipped to minimize the risk of injury, damage to health, or cruel treatment. A re-export certificate may be issued only if the specimen was imported in accordance with the provisions of the Convention and, in the case of a live animal or plant, the specimen is prepared and shipped to minimize the risk of injury, damage to health, or cruel treatment.

3) Confirmation that the regionally adopted conversion factors to calculate live weight from processing grade are used, or alternatively provide the national conversion factor applied.

The United States is not a major processing nation and currently does not apply the conversion factors adopted at WECAFC16. Most of the harvest of Queen Conch is prohibited. The exception, specific to federal waters surrounding the island of St. Croix, applies an unshucked:shucked conversion factor based on 3 clean conchs per pound of whole (unshucked) conch or 2 unclean queen conchs per pound of whole (unshucked) conch. This makes each clean conch approximately 150 grams and each unclean conch approximately 227 grams. These relationships are based on adult conch at least 229 mm in total length or 9.5 mm in lip thickness.

4) Queen Conch harvest and trade statistics for 2015 and 2016, in live weight with information on the conversion factor applied.

Landings data for Queen Conch in 2015 and 2016 are listed below. All weights are meat only.

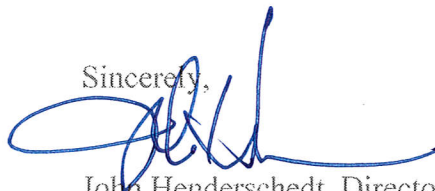

Puerto Rico
2015 Pounds: 197,989
2016 Pounds: 179,318

U.S. Virgin Islands
2015 Pounds: 15,648
2016 Pounds: 32659

Please see Appendix 1 for Trade data for the United States for 2015. Data for 2016 is not available because it is still being processed. This data will be provided in October 2017.

The United States is pleased to see continued cooperation among WECAFC members to improve the conservation of Queen Conch. We remain concerned about the status of the stock and the lack of adequate quotas and management by several range States. The United States is a range State for Queen Conch and is the largest importer of queen conch. Noting the importance of providing the information requested we strongly encourage other members to do the same and look forward to convening at the next Queen Conch Working Group meeting. Please share this letter with the respective members.

Sincerely,

John Henderschedt, Director of NOAA Fisheries Office of International Affairs and Seafood Inspection
